1. The airfield at Dab (Altdamm-054/Q65) has been considerably expanded since 1951. From numerous observations made in 1952 it was ascertained that eight hangars had been built and that the construction of an east-west concrete runway had been started.
2. When last observed in mid-October 1952, 50 to 60 aircraft of an unknown type, covered with tarpaulins, were parked on the airfield. Firing practice of single-engined fighters (type not known) at a towed target was observed over the airfield and over the Dammscher See.
